

SPECIAL EVENT SECURITY

CLIENT	CASTLE HILL RSL CLUB
LOCATION	NSW
COMMENCEMENT	2013 ongoing

Overview

Australia's most revered day, ANZAC Day, is the most challenging day for security.

Above everything else the role of security on ANZAC Day is to protect the sanctity of this special day – a day that starts early, ends late and can be subjected to all manner of behaviours and potential threats.

Exact Security was delighted to be engaged to provide security for ANZAC Day 2013 at Castle Hill RSL, hosts of one of the largest ANZAC Day events in the country.

The result was fantastic! ... That means that we went almost unnoticed. And we have been part of this great day since then.

Fortunately, our team was noticed by David O'Neil – Group General Manager, Castle Hill RSL Club. David has written to us complementing our work and our team. Here are a couple of quotes:

The success [of the day] was a direct result of the dedication and professionalism of your team and their ability to work with our organisation in perfect synergy.

The guards controlled their areas of responsibility exceptionally well under very difficult circumstances and should be congratulated for their efforts.

At Exact Security, we have the belief that great security does more than protect assets – it contributes to a better community and environment. Feedback like this confirms our belief.

Exact's highly trained staff and management team was on hand to address all event staff needs. We understand that every event reflects the BRAND of its host and our obligation is to protect that brand as much as we protect the safety of the event and its patrons.

Our attention to detail sets us apart from other event security companies and will result in a positive and favourable experience for you and your target audience.
